DEDICATION

DEAN DORIS N. STOKES

The 1962 Thoroughbred staff takes great pleasure in dedicating this book to Dean Doris Nickel Stokes for her outstanding loyalty and devotion to the University of Louisville and its students.

Mrs. Stokes was born in Brazil, Indiana, and shortly after her birth she moved to Terre Haute, Indiana, where she attended Garfield High School. She did undergraduate work at Indiana State College and earned a Master's Degree at Indiana University.

After teaching commercial subjects in two Indiana high schools, Mrs. Stokes came to Louisville in January, 1947. She taught in the Secretarial Science Department of the University of Louisville until Spring of 1953. At this time, she became Assistant Dean of Women to Miss Hilda Threkeld, and in July, 1955, she was named acting Dean of Women. As Dean Doris Nickel she always liked to tell groups to whom she spoke that she would get in her "Nickel's worth." This story changed, however, on August 6, 1960, as she became Mrs. Cecil Stokes.

Mrs. Stokes has always upheld the office of Dean of Women with a great deal of dignity and has taken a personal interest in the students she counsels. In addition to the regular duties of Dean, she acts as Faculty Advisor for the Panhellenic Council, guiding the sorority women and helping coordinate their social functions. Mrs. Stokes is the Secretary of the Student Aid Committee, a member of the University Council, as well as Director of Housing for Women. The American Association of University Women claims her attention as she performs her duties as Chairman of the Committee on Higher Education.

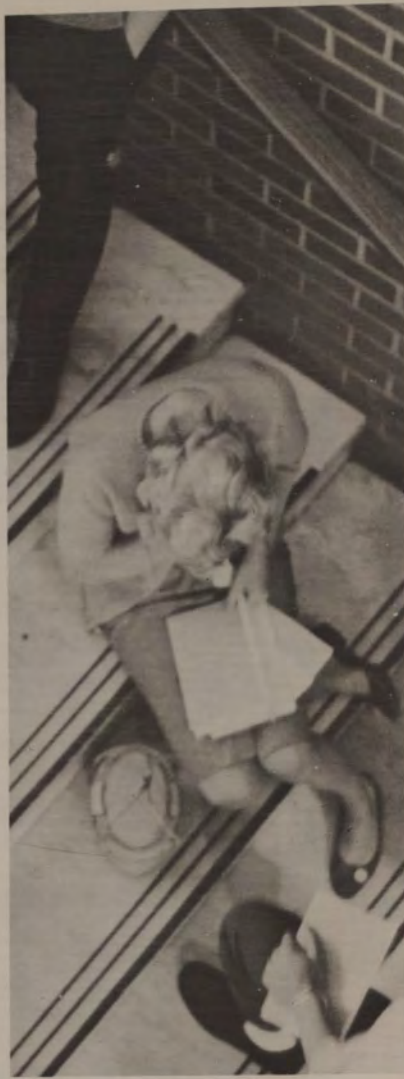

Though her duties and responsibilities are many, Mrs. Stokes still finds time to talk personally with any student who needs her advice. She never hesitates to offer her assistance for any worthwhile University project.

To an extraordinary woman who is an excellent representative of the University of Louisville, we dedicate the 1962 Thoroughbred.

Memory and intellectualism are the key words for a collegiate life . . . Memory of four A.M. homecoming decorations, the scramble before judging, University pep-rallies and bonfires, the elation or dejection of the big game, the Victory dance, and the presentation of awards . . . Memory of initiation and installation ceremonies . . . Memory of fellow students clamoring for J.F.K. and Student Senate Seats . . . Elections won and lost . . . Throwing the newly pinned into the showers . . . Struggling to keep on key during Barbershop . . .Crying or shouting after the results from Fryberger are out . . . finally attaining commencement. All these and more furnish the reflections of the fun and social meaning of a collegiate career . . . but there is another meaningful side to the collegiate life . . . the all-night stands for finals . . . pulling an F in your first course and the dissatisfaction one feels after not doing his utmost . . . the lectures cut and regretted . . . the concerts attended from jazz to blues, from rock-n-roll to classical . . . the plays absorbed by eager, inquiring minds . . . mid-night to dawn discussions on courses, profs, and sex . . . Panic during tests and sleeping through finals . . . When one attends the University of Louisville, these elements combine to form the basis for a germaine mind, philosophically and logically equipped to meet and defeat all challenges during one's life span.

PRESIDENT PHILIP DAVIDSON

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Students:

The theme of this year's Thoroughbred is the role of the student in the University, and I have been asked to comment upon it. Obviously, the student in a very real sense is the reason for the University's existence, and provides so much that makes a University an interesting and enjoyable place. Students provide life and youth and enthusiasm and infinite variety. To those of us who are here year after year, there is no greater thrill than to see the new students grow in maturity and responsibility and in intellectual interests. More than that, some of the dearest friends I have, and this is true of every member of the faculty, are students whom I have come to know through the University.

All of us are important to each other, of course, but the fact of the matter is, all this concentration of faculty brains and talent and dedication, all of this physical plant and all of these dollars, and all of this business and administrative experience and ability exist primarily for you, the student.

Certainly in our Board of Trustees meeting, when I was outlining plans, and in the Administrative Council and in faculty meetings and discussion, the interests and needs of the students are uppermost.

I remember at one Board of Trustees meeting, when I was outlining plans for new dog kennels at the Medical School, one of the members said, "Doctor, when are you going to do something for the students down there?"

We are proud of our students. Our alumni holds positions of trust and influence in every worthwhile endeavor and are found wherever you may go. You who are now here will soon take your place in that growing group, and we are confident that all the investment which you and others have made in your education will bear rich returns in your life and in the lives of those you touch.

CWENS

Cwens plays a most important part in the campus life at the University. It not only acts as a national sophomore woman's honorary, but also as a service organization. The Cwens, dressed in their official uniforms of red blazers and grey skirts, can be found serving at teas, helping at orientation and registration, and serving the college on various other occasions. The University of Louisville group was founded as The Thinkers, but was installed as Nu Chapter in 1952. Members are selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and contributions to campus life, and are tapped each spring at the Fryberger Sing.

D. Andrews, C. Jokela, R. Brown, D. Sugarman, P. Thomas, J. Abbott.

Phi Eta Sigma gives recognition to students who have achieved a 2.5 point standing in their freshman year. These members undertake projects which will help foster scholarship from the first part of a student's college career. One of such projects is the distribution of "How-To-Study" pamphlets at freshman orientation.

The black skirt and vesket, white blouse, and emblem are all easily recognizable signs of a Mortar Board member. This is the national senior women's honorary whose purpose is to provide for the cooperation between societies, to promote college loyalty, to advance the spirit of service and fellowship among university women, to maintain a high standard of scholarship, to recognize and encourage leadership, and to stimulate and develop a finer type of college woman. The University of Louisville chapter—Pallas—has an annual Homecoming mum sale and provides various other services for the campus.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

Founded at Washington and Lee University, December 3, 1914, Omicron Delta Kappa is a national men's honorary. The Beta Epsilon Circle came to the University in 1943.

Because ODK is not only a highly respected honorary, but also an obligation and responsibility, students must apply for admission. They are partially elected according to a five category point system: scholarship, social and religious affairs, athletics, publications, and the arts. ODK members strive toward the true ideals of all-round leadership, co-operation in worth-while endeavors, superior quality in scholarship, and exemplary character. Dr. Paul Angiolillo acts as faculty adviser, and Mr. John Houchens is the faculty secretary.

The Woodcock Society is the oldest honorary at the University. Membership is augmented each year by selecting more than ten per cent of the graduating class whose scholastic standing is at least 2.2 during their junior and senior years, and who possess loyalty, integrity, and initiative. In addition, three annual awards are given yearly to those students who have achieved the highest standing in the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes.

Nationally recognized as outstanding among scholastic fraternities, Phi Kappa Phi is designed to give recognition to students in their senior year for exemplary scholarship in all fields of study, to develop character in college students, and to stimulate mental achievement by recognition through membership. Phi Kappa Phi includes students from all colleges of the University and faculty members of any department.

PI DELTA EPSILON

A national collegiate journalism fraternity, Pi Delta Epsilon was organized to promote student participation in college publications. Members strive to establish a code of ethics among the staffs of these publications, to elevate journalism, and to encourage loyalty to the Alma Mater.

Membership eligibility is open to those having held a major position for a year on any University of Louisville student publication.

DELTA PHI ALPHA

Delta Phi Alpha is the national German honorary fraternity advised by Dr. Leonard Koester. Students are chosen who take an active interest in the German language for at least two years, and maintain a 2.0 standing in their German studies.

Members are L. Crabb, C. Koester, M. Franklin, M. Anderson, T. Westbrook, J. Clayberg, M. Witten, B. Lundquist, N. Schuh, E. Herbert, F. Donsky.

SIGMA PHI SIGMA

Sigma Phi Sigma is the only national physics honor society. Membership is composed of those having interest in the study of physics. Its objectives are to award distinction to students having high scholarship in physics and to popularize interest in that subject.

Sigma Tau is the national honor society for engineers. Membership is selected from the junior, pre-senior, and the senior classes, and is limited to those having outstanding qualities of scholarship, leadership, and engineering ability. This year Ruth Triplett has set a precedent by becoming the first woman member of this chapter.

BETA DELTA

Established in 1943 to foster and develop a common interest in the further study of Oral Pathology and Diagnosis, Oral Medicine, and Preventive Dentistry, Beta Delta serves as a dental honorary fraternity. Dr. Wilbur is the Faculty Advisor.

ALPHA OMEGA ALPHA

Alpha Omega Alpha is the national honorary society for medical students. Membership is determined by the selection of juniors and seniors who are outstanding in scholarship and character. There are forty-one active chapters in Canada and the United States. They are organized to encourage personal honesty and the spirit of medical research.

PI SIGMA ALPHA

Beta Delta Chapter of Pi Sigma Alpha was established at the University in 1960. It is a national political science honor society, bringing local speakers to our campus. Students seeking admission must have a 2.0 average in this subject, be in the upper third of their class, and show interest in government affairs.

Wayne Edwards, Laura Crabb, Norman Hanson.

ALPHA EPSILON DELTA

Pre-meds, pre-dents, and pre-med-techs with an overall 2.00 standing are eligible for membership in the Kentucky Alpha Chapter of Alpha Epsilon Delta.

Dr. Louis A. Krumholz promotes the interest of these students by acting as a faculty advisor.

Sabri Akural comes from Turkey, where he was a journalist. He attended the University of Louisville School of Business and is now a graduate student in the History Department.

Joseph Wittreich, who is on a teaching fellowship from the English Department, is shown leading a discussion in an English 100 class. Mr. Wittreich will have finished his thesis and the other requirements for a master's degree by June, 1962.

The artist on the right, ELEANOR UFFER, is working on a class problem. Miss UFFER did her undergraduate work at the Pratt Institute in New York; she will receive her Master's in Art from the University of Louisville in September, 1962. ERNEST KIDD, top left, is taking reading from an ionization gauge. He is working on his Master's Degree in Physics. CODY STAPLES, pictured in one of the laboratories in the new wing of the Natural Science Building, is running a vacuum distillation of an organic compound. Mr. STAPLES, who is attending the University on a National Science Foundation Co-operative Graduate Fellowship, will receive his Doctorate in Organic Chemistry in 1962.

DAVID L. WHITE, Kentucky Welfare Association; National Association of Social Workers.

The Raymond A. Kent School of Social Work presents a two-year program of combined class instruction, field work, and research, leading to a Master of Science degree in social work. Curricula in the correctional area, in the fields of medical and psychiatric social work, are offered. Discussing play therapy techniques at Child Guidance Center, 206 East Chestnut, are Mrs. Judy Fiene, Mr. Richard J. Walker, and Mrs. Loretta Jenkins, all second year students.

The display pictured above was prepared by Mrs. Rose R. Sandle to demonstrate the various roles a professional social worker is called upon to play.

Enacting their respective roles in the picture to the right are a patient, a physical therapist, and the Kent School field work supervisor at the Rehabilitation Center, Miss Nancy True. The Center, located at 340 East Madison, is a special service clinic which promotes and provides facilities for those suffering physical, social and vocational disabilities. All Kent School students do field work in their specialty, putting into operation the practice of a profession in an actual agency under an instructor.

BRIEFING SERVICE

The Briefing Service gives the student a chance to work with legal problems, while at the same time rendering a valuable service to those members of the Kentucky Bar, whose library facilities are inadequate. The Briefing Service does this work without charge to the attorney.

LOUISVILLE LAWYER

MOOT COURT COMPETITION

The Moot Court Club presents to the law student the opportunity to be an actual part of the judicial process for the first time, by participating in real courtroom episodes.

Dave Grissom, Jim Thompson, and Dave Thompson accompanied Professor Ralph Petrilli to St. Louis last Fall to represent the Law School in the regionals of National Moot Court Competition held there.

SPEED SCHOOL—FRESHMEN

All theory and no practice does not make a good engineer. Tom Berkey tries a little practical application with a distillation column and an automatically controlled oven.

INE PRINTING SINCE 1887—

That's the story of Foote & Davies, Inc.

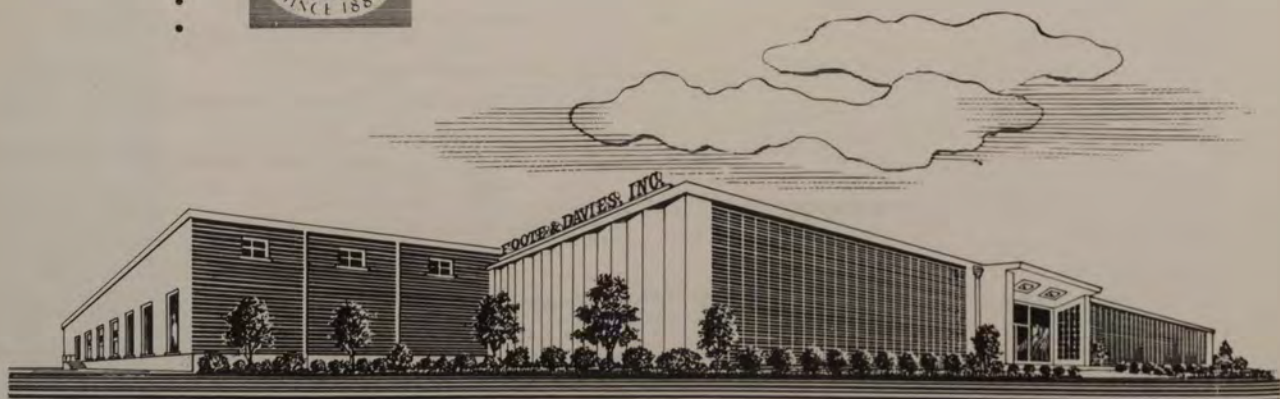

Today we have one of the most modern and best equipped plants in the country. And fine Yearbooks have always been an important part of our business. Our craftsmen believe in quality and strive to produce the "best in the Industry." Our excellent printing doesn't just happen—it's a combination of production research, craftsmanship, and painstaking supervision.
